RULES GOVERNING THE SPOKANE COUNTY BAR ASSOCIATION'S ONLINE LAWYER REFERRAL SERVICE

RULE 1

Spokane County Bar Association (SCBA) Member lawyers may participate for a fee in an online lawyer referral service which refers prospective clients, but only if the service and the member lawyers conform to the rules below. The Washington State Rules of Professional Conduct (RPC), including amendments, are adopted and incorporated by reference herein.

RULE 2

The SCBA Online Referral Service is open to all fee paying members licensed and eligible to practice in this state who maintain an office within the County, and who: (1) meet reasonable objectively determinable experience requirements established by the SCBA; (2) pay reasonable registration and membership fees; and (3) maintain in force a policy of errors and omissions insurance, in an amount at least equal to the minimum established by the Committee. Policy limits must be at least $100,000/300,000.

RULE 4

The combined fees and expenses charged a prospective client by a member lawyer to whom the client is referred shall be reasonable and necessary. It is unreasonable if the fees and expenses exceed the total charges which the client would have incurred had no referral service been involved.

RULE 5

The SCBA Online Referral Service shall periodically survey client satisfaction with its operations and reserves the right to take appropriate remedial action with respect to client complaints against attorneys, the service, and its employees. The SCBA Online Referral Service shall establish and publish a protocol for admitting, suspending or removing lawyers from its roll of panelists. Any lawyer adversely affected by the decision of the service may appeal to the Committee.

RULE 6

The operation of these Rules and compliance with their provisions shall be supervised by a Committee to be appointed by the Spokane County Bar Association Board of Trustees. The Committee shall develop and promulgate rules, regulations, procedures and forms to discharge its obligations consistent with these Rules and subject to approval by the SCBA Board of Trustees. The Committee may submit to the Board of Trustees recommendations for modification of these Rules.
