

The SPOKANE COUNTY BAR ASSOCIATION
presents

IOLTA 411

April 13, 2022

Virtually via Webex

- |                |  |
|----------------|--|
| 1:30 - 2:30 PM | Attorney, Law Firm and Business Strategy Perspective - Devon Thurtle Anderson of SkepsisTech                                       |
| 2:30 - 3:30 PM | A Look from the Inside: An Audit Manager's Perspective - Tracy Sambrano, Audit Manager for the WSBA Office of Disciplinary Counsel |
| 3:30 - 3:45 PM | Joint Q & A Session  |

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES

DEVON THURTLER ANDERSON is CEO of Skepsis Technologies. She helps solo and small law firms improve client service, efficiency, and profitability through sound financial management. Ms. Thurtle Anderson lightens the load for solo and small firm practitioners by providing audit-ready and RPC-compliant bookkeeping; financial insights and strategies for law firms; and consulting on software solutions that will make your practice run more smoothly. She gained her expertise as the managing partner of a national, high-stakes complex litigation practice, where efficiency and her ability to focus on the substantive practice of law rather than administrative matters was key. Ms. Thurtle Anderson earned her law degree, magna cum laude, from Seattle University School of Law.

TRACY SAMBRANO is the Audit Manager at the Washington State Bar Association (WSBA), where she has worked in the Office of Disciplinary Counsel for more than 7 years. Her duties include managing the audit team and auditing Washington lawyers' handling of client funds and their client trust accounts. She testifies as an expert witness in discipline hearings involving trust account violations. In addition, she educates the legal profession about the trust-account rules and assists them in bringing their practices into compliance. Before joining the WSBA auditing staff, she worked as an Accounting Manager at a mid-sized law firm in Snohomish County for 18 years. She managed all the accounting functions for the firm, including the trust account. She has her Bachelor of Science in Accounting and is a member of the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners.